

Academic Advising Update

The Academic Advising Center
301 Pierce Hall
FACULTY/ STAFF ONLY HOTLINE: 487.3344

How to tell if a student is on the old or new general education requirements:

Volume 11, Issue 1
Fall 2008

Noteworthy:

Records has just added a new feature called Supplemental Advising Information that is now available by following the steps below:

- log on to my.emich
- select the faculty and advisers menu
- select student information menu
- select the supplemental advising information link
- enter term, then student's EID or name
- select UG level and submit to get a list of comment codes

Special points of interest:

- Faculty share their knowledge by advising new freshman during Fast Track.
- In partnership with Continuing Education, advising goes to off-site locations.

- All FTIACs (First Time in Any College) beginning fall 2007 and forward are on the new general education requirements. This includes dual-enrolled students who took college classes prior to fall 2007 while in high school.

- Transfer students who began college prior to fall 2007 are given a choice between the old and the new. [See Banner SHATCMT screen – codes listed below.]

- Transfer students who select the old general education program must complete their degree by summer 2014. If not completed by this date, they will be required to complete the new in order to graduate.

- Transfer students who waived their advising beginning with the fall 2007 semester and forward are automatically on the new general education program.

- Transfer students, who began college studies fall 2007 and later, are automatically on the new general education program.

- Students returning to EMU after a two year absence or more (re-enrollees), and began EMU prior to fall 2007 are automatically on the old general education program. These students must complete their degree by summer 2014. If not completed by this date, they will be required to complete the new in order to graduate.

- Currently enrolled students who started at EMU prior to fall 2007 continue following the old general education program. These students must finish their degree by summer 2014. If not completed by this date, they will be required to complete the new in order to graduate.

Advising at EMU off-campus locations

Please welcome Mary Jane Fallot, who was recently hired and trained in her new role of academic advisor to EMU's off-campus extension sites in partnership with continuing education. Ms. Fallot has prior work experience with Henry Ford Community College, Davenport University and has many ties to the business community. Mary Jane earned her masters in school counseling from Eastern Michigan University. Mary Jane plans on working out of the Academic Advising Center in Pierce Hall on Monday and rotates to the following extensions during the remainder of the week:

- Jackson Community College
- Monroe Community College
- Livonia Center
- Northwest Activities Center
- Mott Community College
- Brighton

Academic Advising branches out to help students

Kudos to Faculty and Staff!

Many thanks to more than 120 faculty and staff members who assisted during the Fast Track season where over 1,970 new freshmen students were seen! Advantages of the new format allowed interaction between faculty and students as well as teaching the students how to register on their own. Having knowledgeable faculty and staff to assist our new students in selecting the appropriate classes was a crucial element that led to the success of the program run by Admissions. Thanks again for your time and effort!

Sharing knowledge

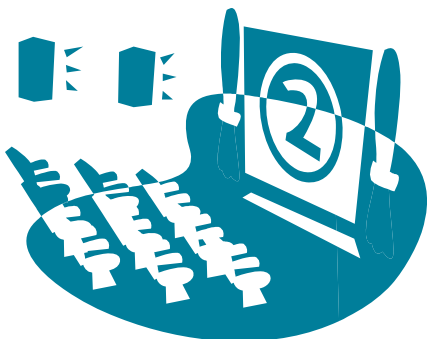

Advising:

- Synonyms* 1. counsel, admonish, caution. 2. suggest. 3. inform, notify, apprise, acquaint. 4. confer, deliberate, discuss, consult.

Advising documents now showing on WebXtender

Beginning with the winter 2008 semester, the Academic Advising Center has been imaging new documents on B-S-ID-BANNER STUDENT COMMON screens. Advising agreements, emails, contact forms, transfer documents, etc... generated by our office can be viewed if you have access as an advisor.
