

Eastern Michigan University
College of Education
John W. Porter Distinguished Chair in Urban Education
Presents:

Social Activist & Acclaimed Education Researcher:

Dr. Jean Anyon

“The Underfunding of Urban Education: Problems & Radical Possibilities”

Thursday, November 8, 2007

7:30-8:30PM

John W. Porter Bldg 203 (Auditorium)

FREE & Open to the Public • Reception & Book Signing to Follow

Dr. Jean Anyon has long been a vital voice in the public discussion regarding the relationship between society and schools. She has challenged and critiqued public thinking and policy surrounding education and economic inequality. Her research on social class, race and schools has been reprinted in 45 edited collections and translated into several languages. Her newest book, Radical Possibilities, places youth, schools and communities at the center of a revitalized social movement for social justice.

For More Information, Visit:

www.emich.edu/coe/chair
mrich1@emich.edu

EASTERN
MICHIGAN UNIVERSITY
Education First

Sponsored by Teacher Education and the Office of Urban Education & Educational Equity