

EASTERN MICHIGAN UNIVERSITY

PERRY C FRANCIS, Ed.D., LPC, NCC
ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR & COE CLINICAL SUITE-COUNSELING COORDINATOR
PFRANCIS@EMICH.EDU

FREE COUNSELING FOR PERSONS/FAMILIES IN THE HOME FORECLOSURE PROCESS

Financial stresses and strains take a psychological toll on the individuals and families. There are many thoughts and feelings that one experiences as they face the prospect of foreclosure. Most common among them are embarrassment, isolation, loss of control, stress, feelings of failure, anger and frustration, depression and anxiety, and in extreme cases, thoughts of suicide.

The COE Counseling Clinic in the Clinical Suite in Porter 135 is offering free counseling to help those who are struggling with financial problems. We can also provide you with referrals to county agencies that will help you work through the foreclosure process and begin the credit rebuilding process.

For more information, call 734.487.4410