LSI FACULTY MENTOR

An important aspect of this program will be identifying your research interests. To give our applicants a sense of the decisions made by graduate students, we want you to review the research interests of the entire faculty at the Life Sciences Institute. Undergraduate research projects are available in most laboratories of our faculty. Please consider the faculty members whose research programs interest you the most and rank them here. The final decision about the laboratory you w/ill work in will be made after you arrive at the LSI. Every attempt will be made to place you in one of your top choices. New in 2008, students interested in working in the Center for Chemical Genomics can indicate their preference below.
