

EMU on iTunes U Release Form/License Agreement

I hereby grant Eastern Michigan University (hereafter “the University”) a license to the podcasts (hereafter “Work”) I submit for the purpose of making the Work available in any format through the University on iTunes U.

I warrant as follows:

- (a) that I have the full power and authority to grant this license;
- (b) that the publication of the Work by the University pursuant to this license will not infringe any copyright, violate any property or proprietary rights, nor invade the privacy of any person and that the content does not contain any obscene or libelous matter; and
- (c) that I have obtained the written permission to reproduce and display the name, likeness, voice, image and recorded statement of any individual appearing or reflected in the Work, unless the appearance or reflection is of a completely incidental nature.

I waive and release the University and its regents, employees and agents from any claim or liability relating to the use of my name, likeness, voice, image, or recorded statements in the Work.

I hereby agree to indemnify and defend the University for any and all claims, liabilities, damages, and expenses, incurred, due to any claimed infringement of copyrights, trademarks, service marks, right of publicity or privacy, or other proprietary, personal or property right arising from publication of the Work through the University on iTunes U or as a result of my breach of any covenant or warranty herein contained.

I agree that the University shall have the right to remove the Work from iTunes U at anytime without prior notice for any reason deemed to be in the University’s best interest. I also waive any right to compensation arising from or related to the use of the Work.

As to the podcast itself (and not the original materials that formed the basis for the podcast), I understand and agree that the University shall have exclusive ownership of the podcast and other proprietary and property rights in the podcast.

This Agreement shall be governed by the laws of the State of Michigan and it expresses the complete understanding of the parties with respect to the subject matter and supersedes all prior representations and understandings.
