Emeritus Recommendation for Dr. Harrison Y. Smith

Statement of Support

Dr. Harrison Y. Smith was appointed Professor of Social Work at EMU in 1994 and served in that position until his retirement in the fall of 2010. Prior to coming to EMU, he served as Associate Professor of Social Work at the University of Kansas from 1975 to 1994, and as Assistant Professor of Sociology, Elmhurst College, Elmhurst, Illinois from 1970 to 1975. He received a B.S. from Southern University, Baton Rouge, Louisiana, an M.S.W. from Washington University in St. Louis, and a Ph.D. from the University of Denver.

During his tenure at EMU, he taught both undergraduate and graduate courses and was involved in curriculum development including launching a course on social work with military families. His scholarship included publications on topics such as public health social work and community development and management. He collaborated on several funded sponsored training and research projects. He made numerous service contributions, including serving as M.S.W. Program Director and as a member of various University departmental committees. Dr. Smith was the recipient of the EMU Martin Luther King, Jr., Honors Award in 2005.

In the broader professional community, he served as substance abuse program evaluator for the Detroit Health Department, Comer School development facilitator and social work consultant for the Detroit Public Schools, and served as a Yale University Child Study Center National Faculty.

In recognition of his work at the EMU School of Social Work, faculty members at the School recommend Dr. Smith for Emeritus Faculty status.
