GOOD NEWS FROM ATHLETICS

E-Club to Induct Seven Into the EMU Athletics Hall of Fame

Eastern Michigan University E-Club, a group of former EMU varsity athletic letterwinners, has announced the addition of seven new members into the Athletic Hall of Fame. The Class of 2010 will be honored at a Hall of Fame ceremony Saturday, Feb. 19, 2011, in the EMU Student Center on campus.

The Class of 2010 includes: Clement Chukwun (track), Dawn (Godfrey) Heck (softball), Laurie (Hubbard) Leonhardt (women's swimming), JoAnn (LeFevre) McBroom (women's basketball), Hildred Lewis (football and men's track), John Martin (baseball), and Barry Stokes (football).

In addition to the Hall of Fame inductees, the E-Club will present Ed Mizinski, a past E-Club president and former EMU football player, with the Ron Oestrike Distinguished Service Award. The award, named after former EMU baseball-coaching legend Ron Oestrike, was first presented at the 2008 Hall of Fame ceremony to Oestrike. The award is voted on by the E-Club Executive Board and is presented to individuals that have been instrumental in assisting the E-Club. This year's class will mark the 35th anniversary of the E-Club Athletic Hall of Fame. The ceremony will begin at 10 a.m. followed immediately by a buffet luncheon.

Men's Swimming and Diving Wins 59th Consecutive MAC meet

Eastern Michigan University men's swimming and diving team won a dominant 14 of 16 events to help secure a 180-116 win over Mid-American Conference opponent Miami on senior day this afternoon at Jones Natatorium. The Eagles improved to 4-3 overall, and remain a perfect 3-0 in MAC competition. The win also makes it 59 consecutive MAC dual-meet victories, a streak that dates back to the 1997-98.

Inaugural Division I FAR Institute

Dr. Liz Broughton, Faculty Athletic Representative will participate in the Inaugural Division I FAR Institute. NCAA President Mark Emmert has approved a request from the Faculty Athletics Representatives Association (FARA) for the creation and funding of a pilot program to establish a Division I FAR Institute. The purpose of the two and one-half day institute will be to provide instruction and training to relatively new FARs.

If Division I intercollegiate athletics intends to fulfill its mission to promote the academic and overall well-being of student-athletes and keep athletics and student-athletes thoroughly integrated into the life of our institutions, it is imperative that faculty athletics representatives (FARs) fulfill their roles successfully within their institution, within their conference and within the NCAA governance structure. Yet, FARs new to their position often get little if any training to prepare them in the many aspects of their job. The first institute will be held May 23-25, 2011.

NCAA's Fellows Leadership Development Program

Dr. Melody Reifel-Werner has been selected to participate in the prestigious NCAA's Pathway Program, formerly known as the NCAA Fellows Leadership Development Program. Developed in 1997, the program is designed to enhance the professional skills of women and people of color who seek to become athletics directors through education, training and mentorship. Highly competitive, applicants must have at least 8 years experience as a senior-level athletic administrator.

These and future Pathway participants will benefit from more presidential involvement, which will allow them the opportunity to understand a president's priorities and expectations of an athletic director. The Pathway Program seeks to engage presidents and chancellors more in the mentoring process of program participants. Training over the 12-month program includes:

- Assessing athletics departments.
- Institutional context and alliances.
- Relationships with external stakeholders.
- Budget and fiscal development.
- Professional development and mentoring.

Former EMU Broadcaster John Fountain Honored by DSBA

John C. Fountain, a former Eastern Michigan University sports broadcaster and long-time University employee, has been named the recipient of the second Detroit Sports Broadcasters Association (DSBA) Ernie Harwell Lifetime Achievement Award.

The DSBA Ernie Harwell Lifetime Contribution Award honors an individual in the broadcasting community who has made significant contributions to the broadcasting profession in Greater Detroit and the state of Michigan. Harwell was the first recipient in December 2009.

Fountain and his wife, Marge, established the J. Clarence and Courtney S. Fountain Sportscasters Scholarship Fund at Eastern Michigan University in 1984 to provide tuition grants each semester to a student who indicates a desire to pursue a career in telecommunications and sports broadcasting. In addition, the student receives 20 hours per week on-the-job experience at radio station WEMU-FM during the fall and winter semesters.

He started the broadcasting scholarship fund when he retired as vice president at EMU, with an original gift of $10,000. In the many years since, between gifts from his family and what he has raised from others, the fund is currently more than $50,000. John is an Honorary Lifetime Member of the DSBA and a past president. John retired from his broadcasting duties in 2007, completing 55 years of calling play-by-play action for the University of Michigan on WAAM radio for three years and the last 44 years handling football, basketball and baseball broadcasts at EMU.

Earl Boykins

EMU will be retiring Earl Boykins jersey on February 27 during the home game at the Convo versus WMU. Game is at 2pm. A 12-year NBA veteran, Boykins graduated from EMU in 1997. He averaged 25.7 points per game his senior year, good for second in the nation. He also was named Honorable Mention All-American and First Team All-Mid-American Conference his junior and senior seasons. Boykins has also been awarded the EMU Outstanding Young Alumnus Award in 2008.

Diving Coach Buck Smith Honored With Bruce Harlan Award

Eastern Michigan University men's and women's diving coach, Buck Smith, has been selected as the recipient of the Bruce Harlan Award for 2010. The honor is the highest award given by the Michigan Interscholastic Swim Coaches Association (MISCA) for continued leadership, contributions, and dedicated service to Michigan High School Diving. To be considered for this award, a person must have coached interscholastic diving for at least five years in Michigan with above average success, and have demonstrated leadership at the Local, State, and National levels. The dedication and hard work put forth by Coach Smith has been an inspiration to fellow colleagues within diving and MISCA. Smith, in his 11th season as the head diving coach for both the men's and women's teams at EMU, was named the Mid-American Conference Diving Coach of the Year in 2010. Smith's divers have placed in the top eight at the Mid-American Conference Championships 81 times. EMU divers have won nine MAC Championship titles, set 3 MAC records, 3 school records and a pool record that has stood for 18 years. Smith has had a diver named MAC Diver of the Year four times and as recent as 2007. He has also been named MAC Coach of the Year six times.

Athletic Affairs Committee adjourned at 1:41 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,
