Student Medical Withdrawal Policy

UNIVERSITY POLICY STATEMENT

STUDENT INVOLUNTARY ADMINISTRATIVE WITHDRAWAL POLICY

UNIVERSITY POLICY STATEMENT

It is the policy of Eastern Michigan University (EMU) to establish a Student Involuntary Administrative Withdrawal Policy for the purpose of maintaining a campus environment that is conducive to learning, protects the University's educational purposes, maintains reasonable order on campus, and protects the rights and safety of all members of the University community. The University may order the involuntary withdrawal of a student from the University or from on-campus housing in accordance with University policy, as described below. Eastern Michigan University strives to maintain a community that is safe for all of its members.

UNIVERSITY PRACTICE

The Student Involuntary Administrative Withdrawal Policy below, outlines the procedures to be utilized in seeking the involuntary withdrawal of a student.

When a student's conduct may jeopardize the health, safety or welfare of the community or one of its members, such conduct will typically be addressed through the Student Conduct Code. There are times, however, when the University recognizes that such conduct may be, in whole or in part, the result of a documented medical condition. In those cases, this policy may present an alternative to proceeding solely under the Student Conduct Code. Every student's situation will be reviewed and assessed individually to determine if it is appropriate to apply this Policy.

Section I: Scope of Policy

The Policy will cover behaviors described in Section II: Standards for Withdrawal, Items "a" through "e", that occur on University premises and/or at University-sponsored activities but. The Policy may also address off-campus behavior if the University determines that the behavior, or the continued presence of the student, impairs, obstructs, interferes with or adversely affects the mission, processes or functions of the University.

For purposes of this Policy a student is defined as follows any of the following:

- Any person enrolled for courses through or at EMU, both full-time and part-time, and any person who attends educational institutions other than EMU but who resides in EMU residence halls.
- Any person who is not officially enrolled for a particular term but whose EMU record indicates a continuing relationship with the University.
- Any person who has been accepted into EMU but has not yet enrolled for courses.

Section II: Standards for Withdrawal
In accordance with University policy, and applicable federal and state laws prohibiting discrimination based on disability, a student may be involuntarily medically withdrawn from the University and/or on-campus housing University residence, either temporarily or permanently, if it is determined that the student suffers from a mental disorder as defined by the current American Psychiatric Association Diagnostic and Statistical Manual, and as a result of the disorder:

a. Engages, or threatens to engage, in behavior which poses a danger of causing physical harm to self or others, and/or
   * Demonstrates behavior that is unreasonably disruptive to the normal education process and orderly operation of the University, and requires an excessive amount of University resources, and/or
b. Engages, or threatens to engage, in behavior which would cause
   * Demonstrates significant property damage, which directly and substantially impedes the lawful activities of other members of the University, and/or
   * Demonstrates an ongoing inability to satisfy basic personal needs (e.g., nourishment, shelter) such that there is a reasonable possibility that serious physical harm or death might may occur within a short period of time, and/or
d. * Commits a violation of the University's Student Conduct Code and lacks the capacity to comprehend and participate in the University's disciplinary process, and/or
   * Commits a violation of the University's Student Conduct Code and did not understand the nature or wrongfulness of the conduct at the time of the offense.

Section III: Premises Underlying This Policy

The Involuntary Medical Review process will include consideration of the following information:
* the objective and observable behaviors exhibited by the student;
* current medical information; and
* the student's educational record.

An involuntary administrative withdrawal:
* is not a substitute for appropriate disciplinary action under the Student Conduct Code;
* The University reserves the right, in all cases, to address conduct under the Student Conduct Code.
  * Should not be used to dismiss socially or emotionally "eccentric" students who do not otherwise meet the standards for withdrawal described in this section.
  * Should only be initiated after reasonable attempts to secure voluntary cooperation for a psychological evaluation or voluntary withdrawal have been exhausted or if
  * the student refuses to agree to or doesn't adhere to reasonable conditions established for his/her continued presence on campus and/or in on-campus housing University residence.
