

EASTERN MICHIGAN UNIVERSITY
Aging Studies
COLLEGE OF HEALTH & HUMAN SERVICES

COURSES IN AGING STUDIES

SUMMER 2021

UNDERGRADUATE AND GRADUATE
OPEN TO ALL MAJORS

AGIN 515 SEXUALITY AND AGING

Dr. Yvette Colon

Examines factors affecting sexual expression, capacity and relationships in later life; considers special population needs/issues (e.g., disabled elders, homosexuality, sexuality and dementia, HIV/AIDS, women).

1.00 Credit hour

Online synchronous 9am-1pm

June 4 & 5; June 18 & 19

AGIN 524 FAMILIES & DEMENTIA

Jean Barnas

This class looks at family caregiving of people with dementia by addressing primary concerns, needs, assessment issues and interventions appropriate to the early, middle and late stages of dementia, and the period after the family member's death.

2.00 Credit hours

Online Asynchronous

Jun 23, 2021 - Aug 11, 2021

REGISTRATION

Registration opens March 31

Undergraduates can register with permission. Contact the Aging Studies Director, Dr. Cassandra Barragan for more information.

cbarrag1@emich.edu

Dementia is a call for all of us to be more patient in a busy world.

Age-friendly University
Global Network