From seeds and sprouts come many things - flowers, plants, and food! We can plant, nurture, and watch as we create our own garden in the classroom and outside! What grows around our neighborhood? We'll go on walks to find out!

On The Go (July 6-9)

Session 4

Running and jumping and skipping, oh my! Exercise and movement isn't just healthy, it's fun! Our outdoor space is perfect for fitness - we'll get our hearts pumping and our feet racing!

Deep Blue Sea & Beyond (July 12-16)

Session 5

What will we find within the waves? There's more than just water for us to explore - sea creatures, pirates, treasure, and more!

Amazing Animal Kingdom (July 19-23)

Session 6

What prowls in the night? What flies through the air? No need to pull up a chair - let's actively explore animals everywhere! Books, scavenger hunts, and virtual zoos await!

Exploration Space (July 26-30)

Session 7

Up past the clouds there's a whole other place...space! What does Mars look like? What do astronauts eat? Let's blast off to explore the planets, stars, asteroids, and more!

Jr. Mad Scientist (August 2-6)

Session 8

If you're into messy, slimy goo, then this is the week for you! We'll be mixing, pouring, squishing, and observing. Why do things happen? What will it do? You send in the Jr. Mad Scientist, we'll handle the rest!

Fairy Tales & Fantasy (August 9-13)

Session 9

Those classic tales can continue to inspire us as we step into magical worlds! We can read, dance, and act our favorite stories with props and puppets. Let's be inspired, can you create your own fairy tale? Where will your fantasy take us?

Book Cooks (August 16-20)

Session 10

Reading can be such an inspiration, even for cooking! Let's see if we can replicate some of our favorite children's book foods. You know what they say - if you give a child a book, they may want a snack to go with it!
