

Down the Myrtle Path

Compiled & written by: Hannah Geddes Wright

Edited by: Dr. Thomas Gwaltney, Professor, Eastern Michigan University

114 pg. soft-cover, $12.00 (US). Please add $4 for shipping & handling

In 1987, the Geddes family donated the Town Hall School to Eastern Michigan University to be restored as a living museum, where everyone had the opportunity to experience the days of the one-room schoolhouse. Hannah Geddes Wright was once a student of this school. Her personal connection to the schoolhouse becomes obvious through her meticulous research of the history of the school, and the collection of former students and teachers memoirs. In addition “Down the Myrtle Path” tells the story of the move to Eastern Michigan University in both words and pictures. Now you too can stroll...

Down the Myrtle Path
©1997, Hannah Geddes Wright.

To order: please fill in the form below, PRINT this page, and send your $16 (US) check or money order to the address below:

Name(s)_____

Address_____

City/State/Zip_____

Email (*optional)_____

Make check or money order payable to: Hannah Geddes Wright

Mail to:

Eastern Michigan University
c/o Geddes Town Hall School
College of Education
John W. Porter Building
Suite 310
Ypsilanti, Michigan 48197