

Eastern Michigan University construction management students participated in a construction management competition sponsored by the Associated Schools of Construction from October 12–15, 2016 in Downers Grove, IL. Over 350 students participated representing 27 universities. We are pleased to report that the EMU team took 2nd place in the Pre-Construction Division. Our students finished ahead of some renown schools including Cal Poly at San Luis Obispo, The Ohio State University and the University of Southern California among others. Each student was awarded a trophy and the Eastern Constructors EMU student group received a check for $750.
