

Huron River Watershed Council

Internships and Project Based Volunteering

The Huron River Watershed Council protects and promotes the health of our local river, streams, and ecosystems through scientific data collection, advocacy, and education.

Interns join our team of superheroes on all aspects of our work. Typical internships are partially field based and partially administrative including field results interpretation, program development, or research on a wide array of topics. HRWC typically has 1-3 paid internships per summer and numerous unpaid internships, either summer or year round.

Project based volunteering has an individual launch into a project of mutually agreed upon need. HRWC would love to see how your superhero ability can support the mighty Huron River. * May meet internship requirements)
