

EASTERN MICHIGAN UNIVERSITY

Professional Development Calendar for Graduate Studies and Research

Winter 2022

Graduate Studies and Research (GSR) at Eastern Michigan University provides professional development opportunities for faculty and graduate students. The sessions are designed to strengthen the professional foundation by focusing on critical topics specific to students' graduate education and faculty members' scholarly and creative work. These opportunities include workshops, presentations, and the GSR Lunch & Learn series.

Lunch & Learn is a series of workshops designed to build community while focusing on topics related to graduate education and research. When we resume normal campus operations, we will host face-to-face Lunch and Learn meetings on campus.

Our series of workshops and presentations will provide participants with information that is necessary to establish a strong knowledge base in many interesting areas.

Lunch & Learn: Sharing knowledge, building community (All times 12 - 1 pm)

Events/Additional Workshops (Check event description for time)

January 14: Outside Interests: EMU's revised Outside Interest (Conflict of Interest) Policy and Declaration Form ~ Sonia Chawla

This session will review the revised Outside Interest (Conflict of Interest) policy, focusing on declaration requirements. In addition, there will be a demonstration of the new Cayuse Outside Interests platform, which EMU will begin using for submitting and managing Outside Interest declaration forms starting in January 2022. This session is geared toward faculty who plan to apply for internal or external research funding.
