3. Exempt employees who are directed to report to work when the University is closed will receive pay for the day and equivalent time off (on an hour for hour basis) for all hours worked up to a maximum of eight hours (8) on a day the University is closed down.
4. All staff classified employees (exempt and non-exempt) who have been approved for annual leave or sick leave on a day the University has been officially closed are required to use such time for the day.

Non-Exempt

Non-exempt classified employees are paid on an hourly basis and must be paid for all time actually worked. For the convenience of payroll, processing employees may be set up on an “exception time hourly” or “positive time hourly” basis depending on the employee group. Exception time hourly is similar salary in that a regular pay amount is set up to be paid each pay period as a default but may be adjusted up or down depending upon actual worked hours reported. Positive time hourly requires that actual hours worked be approved and reported for a paycheck to be generated. Non-exempt employees are only paid for actual time worked or for paid time off benefits which have been authorized and are available. Payroll recording keeping for non-exempt classified employees must be done to account for all hours worked in a work week and are reported along with any approved use of paid time off benefits such as sick, personal or vacation.

Exempt

Payroll record keeping for exempt classified employees should only be done on a exception time basis whereby the employee and supervisor submit and approve use of lost time categories such as sick, personal, vacation or no pay earnings codes. Reporting of lost time categories should not be done in less than ½ day (4 hour) increments. Exempt employees are not eligible for compensatory time off benefits. If the employee has exhausted all lost time benefits (i.e., sick, personal, or vacation), then the guidelines apply as to whether it can be handled as a no pay situation or not. The pay practice rules or the designation of exempt status is not to be construed as relieving the employee (either AP, PT, or AC) of their obligation to comply with departmental and/or supervisory requirements for notification and approval of an absence or change in schedule (including late arrival or early departure) regardless of whether it is for less than in ½ (half) day increment(s). Supervisors are expected to establish and communicate notification and approval requirements within their organizational units and administer in a consistent manner.
