

President's Report
EASTERN MICHIGAN UNIVERSITY
Board of Regents Meeting
June 13, 2019

Mr. Chairman and Distinguished Members of the Board of Regents:

Today marks another milestone day for Eastern Michigan University – reflecting our ongoing and intentional strategy to prepare the University for future students and the market demands of the Michigan and national economy. For the first time since 1982, Eastern Michigan University's Board of Regents has approved a name change to one of our five colleges.

Today's action to rename the College of Technology in order to launch the new College of Engineering and Technology is an action rooted in our commitment to prepare students for the opportunities of today – and the opportunities of the future. It builds off the establishment of two new engineering programs in the last two years – Mechanical Engineering in 2017 and Electrical & Computer Engineering in 2018.

Our emphasis on adding engineering provides excellent career opportunities for students, as the demand for more engineers in Michigan is significant. According to estimates, our state's public universities meet only 40 percent of that current demand.

The name change coincides with a major, $40 million renovation of the home of the College of Engineering and Technology. Sill Hall is closed this summer as the extensive renovations take place. When completed, the entire 92,000 square foot structure will be updated, with an additional 16,000 square feet in new academic space to be constructed.

The College supports a wide variety of distinct programs and areas of study in high-demand career fields, including artificial intelligence, autonomous vehicles, aviation, cyber security and information assurance, construction management, drone technology, hotel and restaurant management, interior design, military science, and simulation, animation and gaming.

Sill Hall is just one of many exciting construction and renovation projects on campus this summer, as you learned a few minutes ago in the presentation by our facilities team.

The level of activity is unprecedented – construction of the new health center in collaboration with St. Joseph Mercy Health System and IHA will be completed later this year; renovations to the Rec/IM, parking lots and roadways are underway; as is construction of the new Student-Athlete Performance Center; and, we continue to invest in improvements to classroom technology, campus wireless and security.

The General Fund operating budget approved today focuses on the priorities of the University, which are maintaining excellent academic programs and serving students' academic and career needs while responding to rapidly changing demographics.

The University also continued its focus on minimizing net costs for students by offering a high level of financial aid.

Faculty research is one of the cornerstones of the University. We celebrate the 56 faculty members selected for Faculty Research and Creative Activity Fellowships for research in areas such as cancer cell growth, hearing aids for autistic children, and the post climate change environment. I encourage you to review the full list of faculty research under the program – it can be found in the posted Board materials.

At the same time, 25 undergraduate students and 19 faculty members have received Undergraduate Research Stimulus Awards. Students receive a $2,000 fellowship in support of their research efforts and collaborating faculty members may receive $500, to be used for lab/studio supplies or equipment, professional travel, or other professional expenses.

Areas of research in the stimulus awards include analyzing brain activity of children with Autism Spectrum Disorder, the effects of solar storms on Earth's magnetosphere, and assessing the impact of the Mediterranean Diet. A complete list of the awards also can be found in the posted Board materials.

We are pleased with the approval of two collective bargaining agreements – our food service and maintenance employees, represented by AFSCME Local 3866, and our clerical secretarial employees, represented by UAW Local 1975.

Thank you to the bargaining teams for their hard work in achieving each of the agreements. With the approval at the April Regents meeting of our faculty union contract, all bargained-for units at the University are now under contract as we continue to work collaboratively with our bargaining units and employees across campus to support our students and their educational experience.

Other accomplishments are listed in the Appendix to this report on the University website. Thank you, Chairman Webb.

James M. Smith, Ph.D.
President
