

President's Report
EASTERN MICHIGAN UNIVERSITY
Board of Regents Meeting
April 23, 2020

Mr. Chairman and Distinguished Members of the Board of Regents:

It is my distinct honor to share with you, and with the entire Eastern Michigan University community, some of the important developments that are taking place at the University.

These are unprecedented times, as we all certainly know. As the world has adapted to our ever-changing new normal and the life altering complexities surrounding it, so has Eastern Michigan University.

It is in that spirit that I take time today to thank our entire Eastern Michigan University community for its incredibly supportive and collaborative efforts during the COVID-19 pandemic.

I begin by acknowledging our students – the cornerstone of who we are as an institution. The reason our faculty and staff, and each and every one of us, do what we do.

Students have made an incredible adjustment, not just to online classes, but in managing the inconceivable disruption this crisis has brought to their personal, family, social and professional lives.

We continue to support roughly three hundred students remaining in campus housing -- because it is the only home they have right now.

These include international students, whose home nation will not permit their return; students who have immune-compromised individuals in their permanent place of residence, creating undue risk of bringing COVID-19 into their habitat; and others, such as graduate students, who have made Eastern their home for the next several years while they complete their studies.

All of our students, those living on campus and those commuting, have pushed forward and persevered in light of the global crisis. Students have continued to excel in this difficult and challenging environment.

And, a special shout out to our April graduating students, who will not have the opportunity at this time to participate in the grand procession, pomp and circumstance of Commencement at the Convocation Center. Our April graduates are participating in a digital media/virtual celebration – and we have words of congratulations to share with them from more than 100 selfie videos from fellow students, faculty members, staff and alumni. We plan to have a formal in-person graduation ceremony for our April graduates later in the year, once such gatherings are permitted.

Eastern Michigan University's acclaimed faculty members have gone above and beyond to adapt their teaching methods to embrace online and virtual instruction, using new platforms they had never planned on using. Our faculty did this on very short notice as government public health directives, in the early stages of this crisis, were changing by the hour.

Over and over again, we hear stories about our faculty members' creativity in inspiring our students and continuing to help them complete their classes. Faculty members, you deserve all of our thanks.

I also thank our support staff, who have been working remotely and adapting their work to provide students with the services they need, whether advising, writing, career development or health and wellness. Our staff also has responded to the crisis with creative solutions to bring that support online to benefit our students. Thank you for helping to ensure our students' continued success.

With all of this, there is another group of Eastern Michigan University who deserve special recognition. As many of you know, not all Eastern Michigan University employees are working remotely. A good number are considered "critical infrastructure workers" or are conducting "minimum basic operations" as outlined in the Governor's executive order.

These individuals truly deserve special acknowledgement. They are venturing out of their homes to do their jobs, to support the University at this critical time. In their own way, they are part of the front line in keeping the University operating, and continuing our support of students and the surrounding community. These employees include:

- Our facilities and maintenance teams who have spent countless hours cleaning and disinfecting entire buildings, including residence halls, academic buildings and classrooms, touch points and common areas, as well as fixing broken steam lines and other critical operational areas. I have had more than one individual bring to my attention what a wonderful job the facilities and maintenance staff is doing at this time.
- Our team in Information Technology, who remain on campus ensuring we are functioning online, and supporting our faculty, staff and students. This includes creating outdoor Wi-Fi hotspots, as well as adding and troubleshooting enhanced teaching and meeting capabilities.
- The teams in dining and housing, who are here today supporting the roughly 300 students still living on campus that I referenced earlier.
- The team at Swoop's Food Pantry, who have continued to address the needs of students who are food insecure.
- The broadcast team at WEMU, who are providing daily local and National Public Radio coverage of COVID-19 while also bringing entertainment to our homes with the station's distinct blend of news, blues, jazz, world and roots music.
- And finally, our members of the Department of Public Safety, who continue to support our campus and community in a very difficult time, while also finding time to volunteer and support food delivery at Ypsilanti Meals on Wheels. You are truly on the front lines.

I especially want to thank those of you who are considered critical infrastructure or conducting minimum basic operations – while we may not see you every day, we know that you are there, and that you care deeply about our campus and our community.

Board/ 3

Unique and difficult times bring out the best in people – and that is certainly true of our employees who continue to work on campus, as well as our students and employees who are working remotely. Many of you are taking part in volunteer activities to support health care workers and others in the community. This is the Eastern Michigan University way. I am proud to be your President. I am proud to be your colleague. And, I am proud of the work you do.

Other accomplishments are listed in the appendix to this report on and the University website.

Thank you, Chairman Webb.

James M. Smith, Ph.D.
President
